Dedication

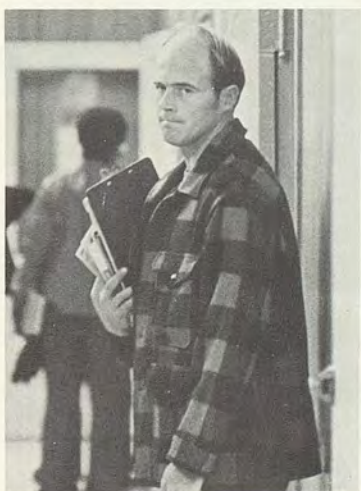

In the fall of 1969, a new teacher came to Cape Charles High School. He brought with him enthusiasm, devotion to sports, and an interest in the total school program. This teacher is known by all of us, but little is known about him.

Mr. Preston attended the Paintsville High School in Paintsville, Kentucky. He continued his education at Marshall University in Huntington, West Virginia, where he received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Physical Education. For relaxation, Coach Preston enjoys jogging, fishing, and playing chess. He is married and is the father of an infant daughter.

We, the senior class, would like to dedicate the 1972-73 ARROW to Mr. James Preston. This is our way of saying "Thanks" to a really fine person who has devoted many, many hours to coaching football, basketball, and baseball.

Coach James M. Preston

Mr. Preston gives Stephanie a big kiss.

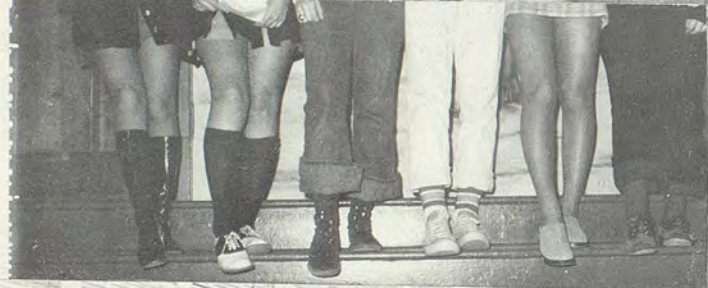

Now

Now is where we are. It is about each of us, unique individuals actively questioning, exploring, and learning. It is about our world and our involvements and concerns with it. It is the present, a living and expanding time . . . It is now.

Let us look at the people involved in the now generation who are dressed differently, talk differently, play and study differently in the '72-'73 ARROW.

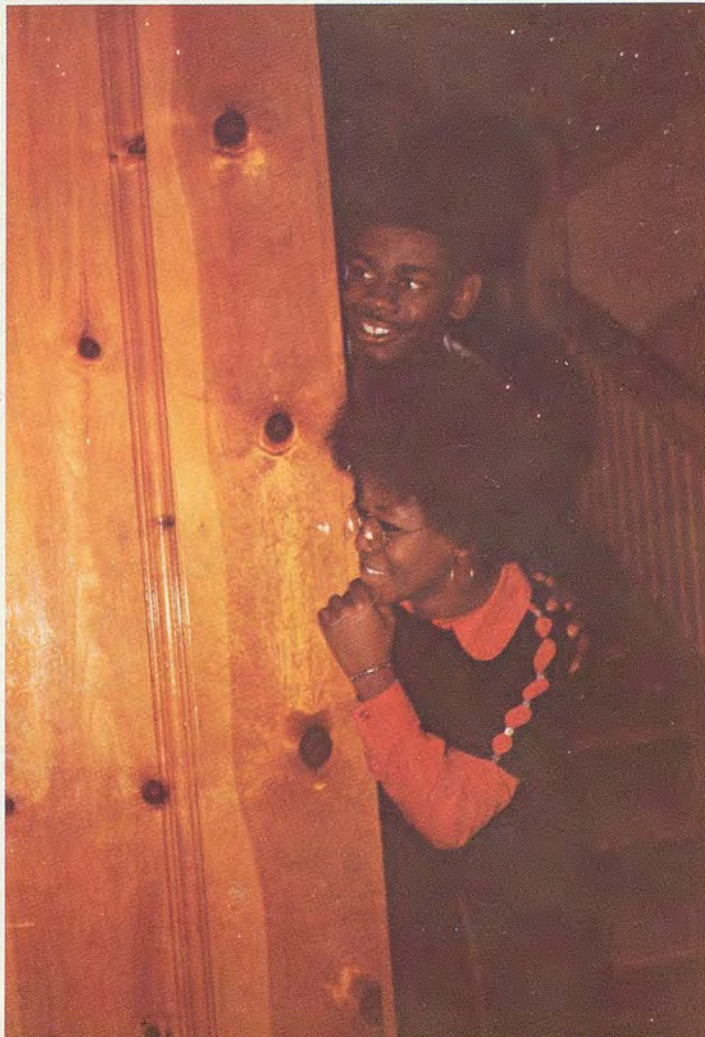

Sally Mitchell
Literary Editor

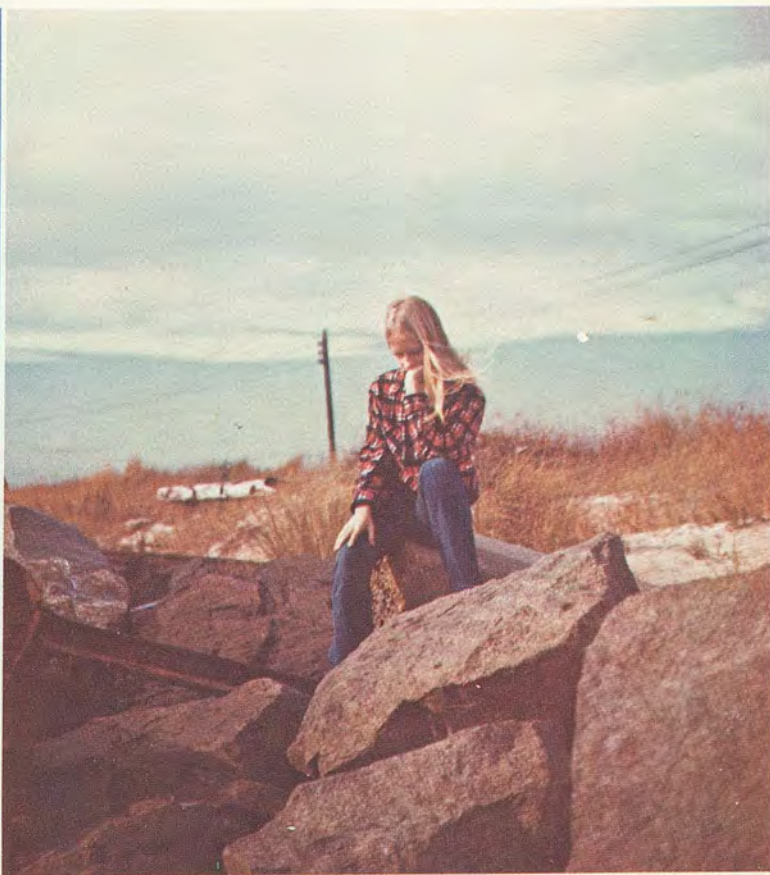

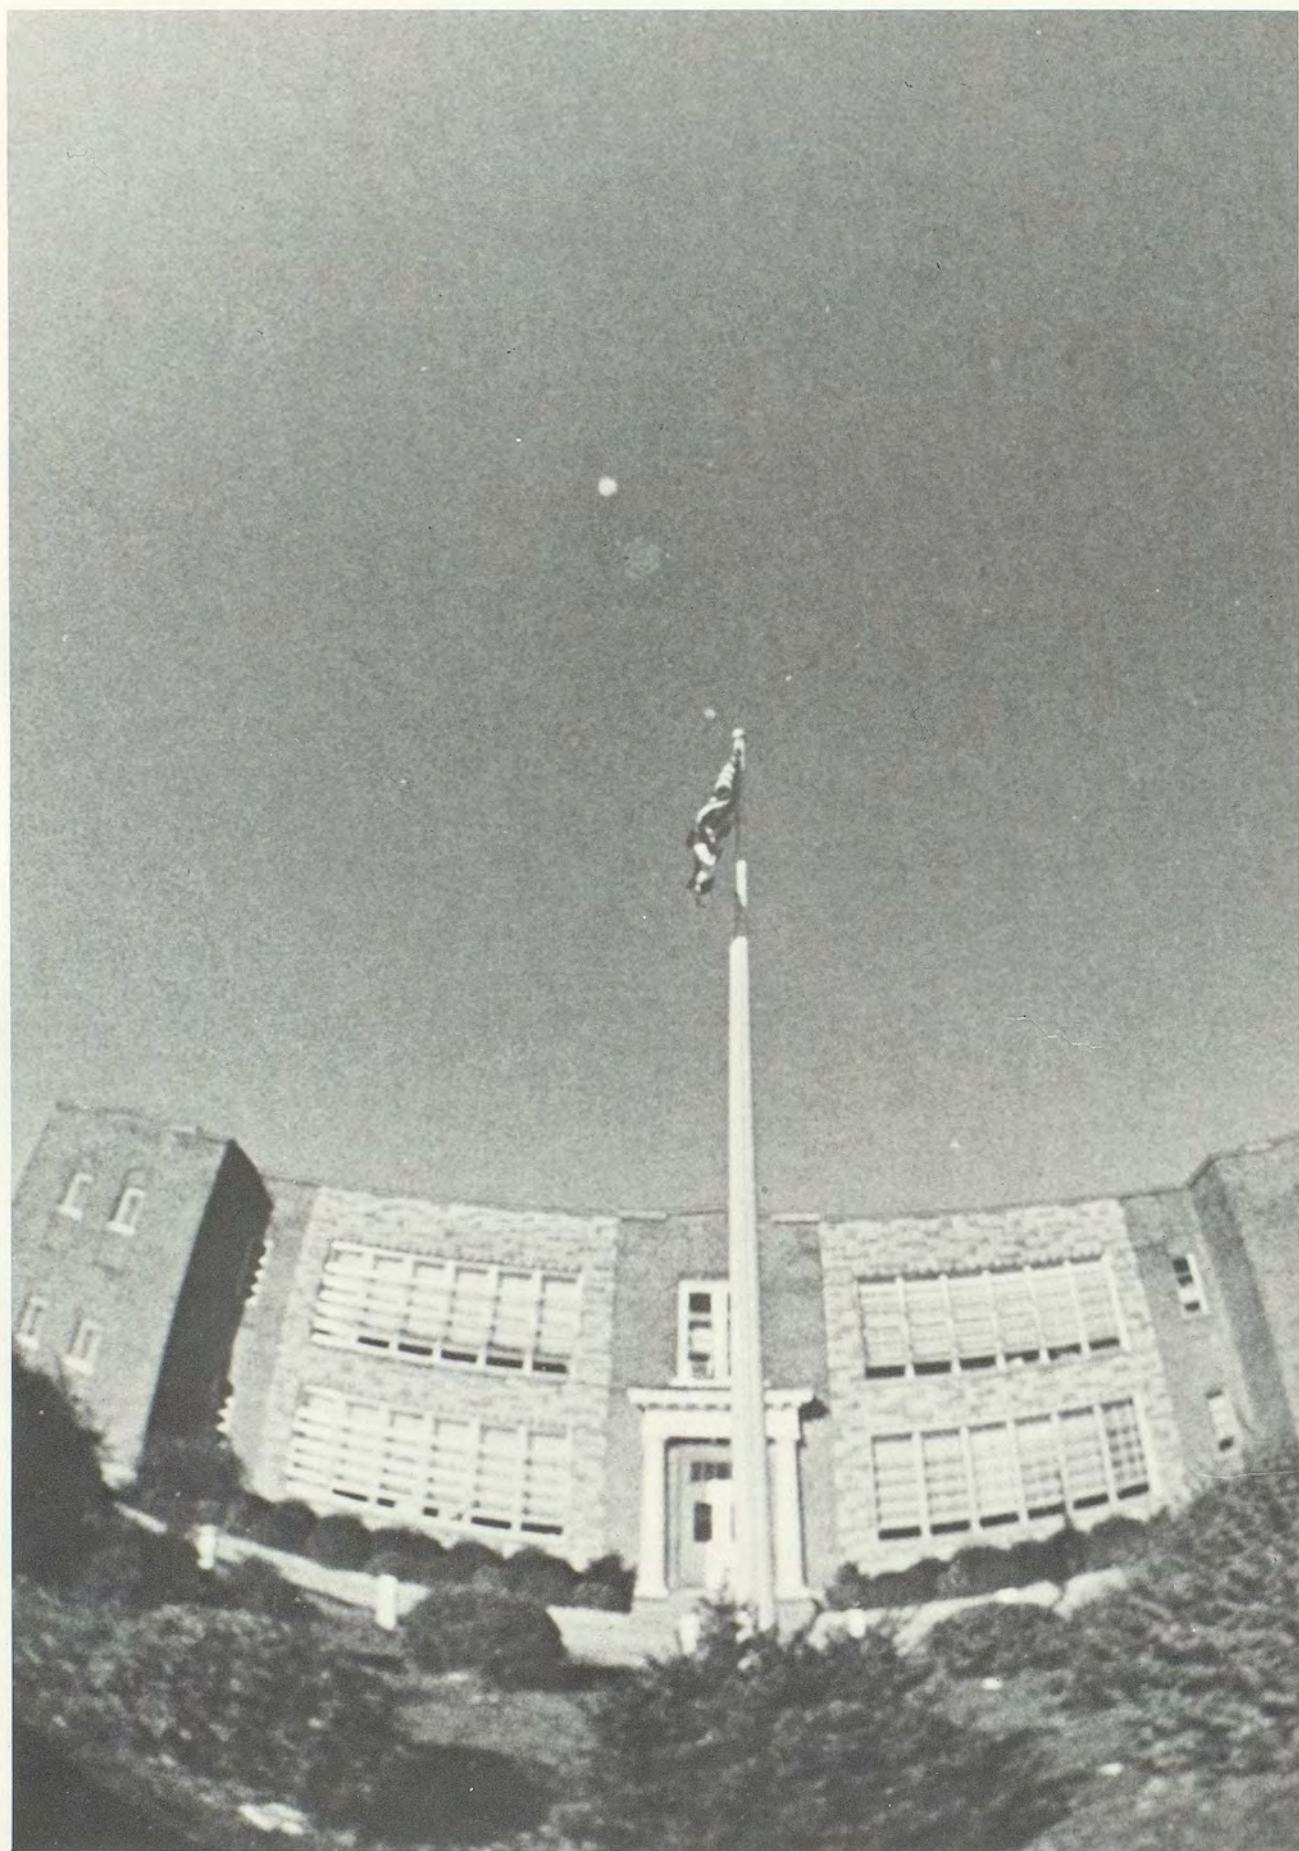

"We relate to others with a word, a look, a touch, a motion. We relate one to one, one to two, and one to many. How we relate and what we relate is a personal matter born in the mind and heart."

administration

Now Is Leading

To the Class of 1973

The Class of '73 has many fine qualities and talents that can be used to make their communities grow. Many of the students have already helped to make their school a better school by contributing their services. Upon graduation your obligations and responsibilities don't stop - they are just beginning. All problems and pressures don't end when you receive a high school diploma.

The only way to help solve the problems and pressures of the day is to work on them daily. The Class of '73 has the abilities and knowledge to help solve the problems of today so tomorrow will be brighter.

I challenge each graduate to try to make his community and country a better place in which to live. This challenge will not become a reality until you become actively involved by helping with your varied talents and abilities.

Mr. Berkley E. Ashby, Principal

Mrs. Phyllis Bennett, Secretary

A d m i n i s t r a t i o n

Mr. George W. Young, Superintendent of Northampton County and Cape Charles Schools.

. . . Directing

Cape Charles School Board Members. Left to Right: Mr. Francis Wendell, Chairman; Mrs. Katherine S. Penney; and Mr. William Smith.

... Teaching

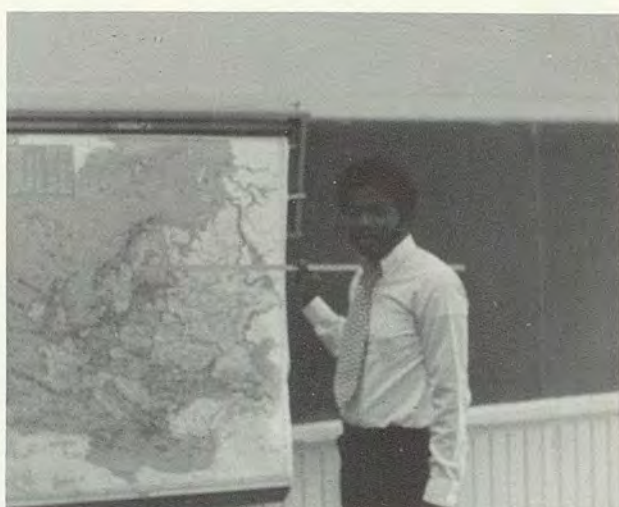

Mrs. Ames reads PETER RABBIT to the class.

Mrs. Bull tries not to smile at a ridiculous question.

Mrs. Curling relaxes between classes.

Mr. Dixon points out important places to the class.

Is Mrs. Dominick reading a novel or a comic book?

Mrs. Goodwin in a pensive mood after laying out a pattern.

. . . Challenging

Mrs. Goffigon enjoys reading a good book report.

Mrs. Mitchell, a teacher aide, looks over a pupil's paper.

"Wow, what a day!" says Coach Travis.

"Amisistisne libros tuos Latinos iterum?" says Mrs. Henderson.

"I am Mrs. Ilderton, who are you?"

Mr. Smaw helps Johnny with his drawing.

. . . Communicating

Oh, ho! Miss Nye caught you.

"What will they think of next?" asks Miss Montalbano, the English teacher.

"And away we go," says Mrs. Nottingham.

"How's this for a pose?" says Mrs. Outten.

Is Mrs. Russell a Dr. Jekyll or a Mr. Hyde?

Mr. Webb concentrates on the next band concert.

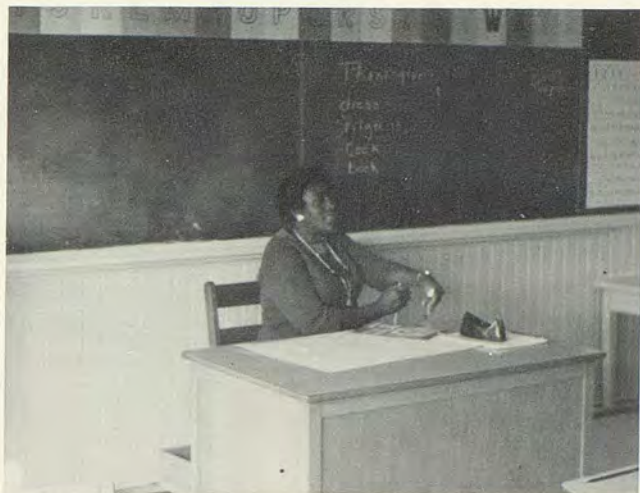

When leaving school, Mrs. Worsley sings "Skip, Skip, Skip, to my Lou."

. . . Solving Problems

"How do you spell ichthyology?" asks Mrs. Qais-saunee, the librarian.

Mrs. Sample, a teacher aide, demonstrates how to draw a circle.

Mrs. Robins, a teacher aide, thinks about what she's having for lunch.

Mrs. Stewart whistles while she solves a bookkeeping problem.

Milk makes me happy," says Mrs. Spencer, a teacher aide.

Mrs. Jones smiles because her math students have done their homework.

. . . and Discovering New Horizons.

Mrs. Sawyer, the school nurse, counsels two students.

Mr. Preston concentrates on his next move.

Mrs. Webb does her own thing at the bulletin board.

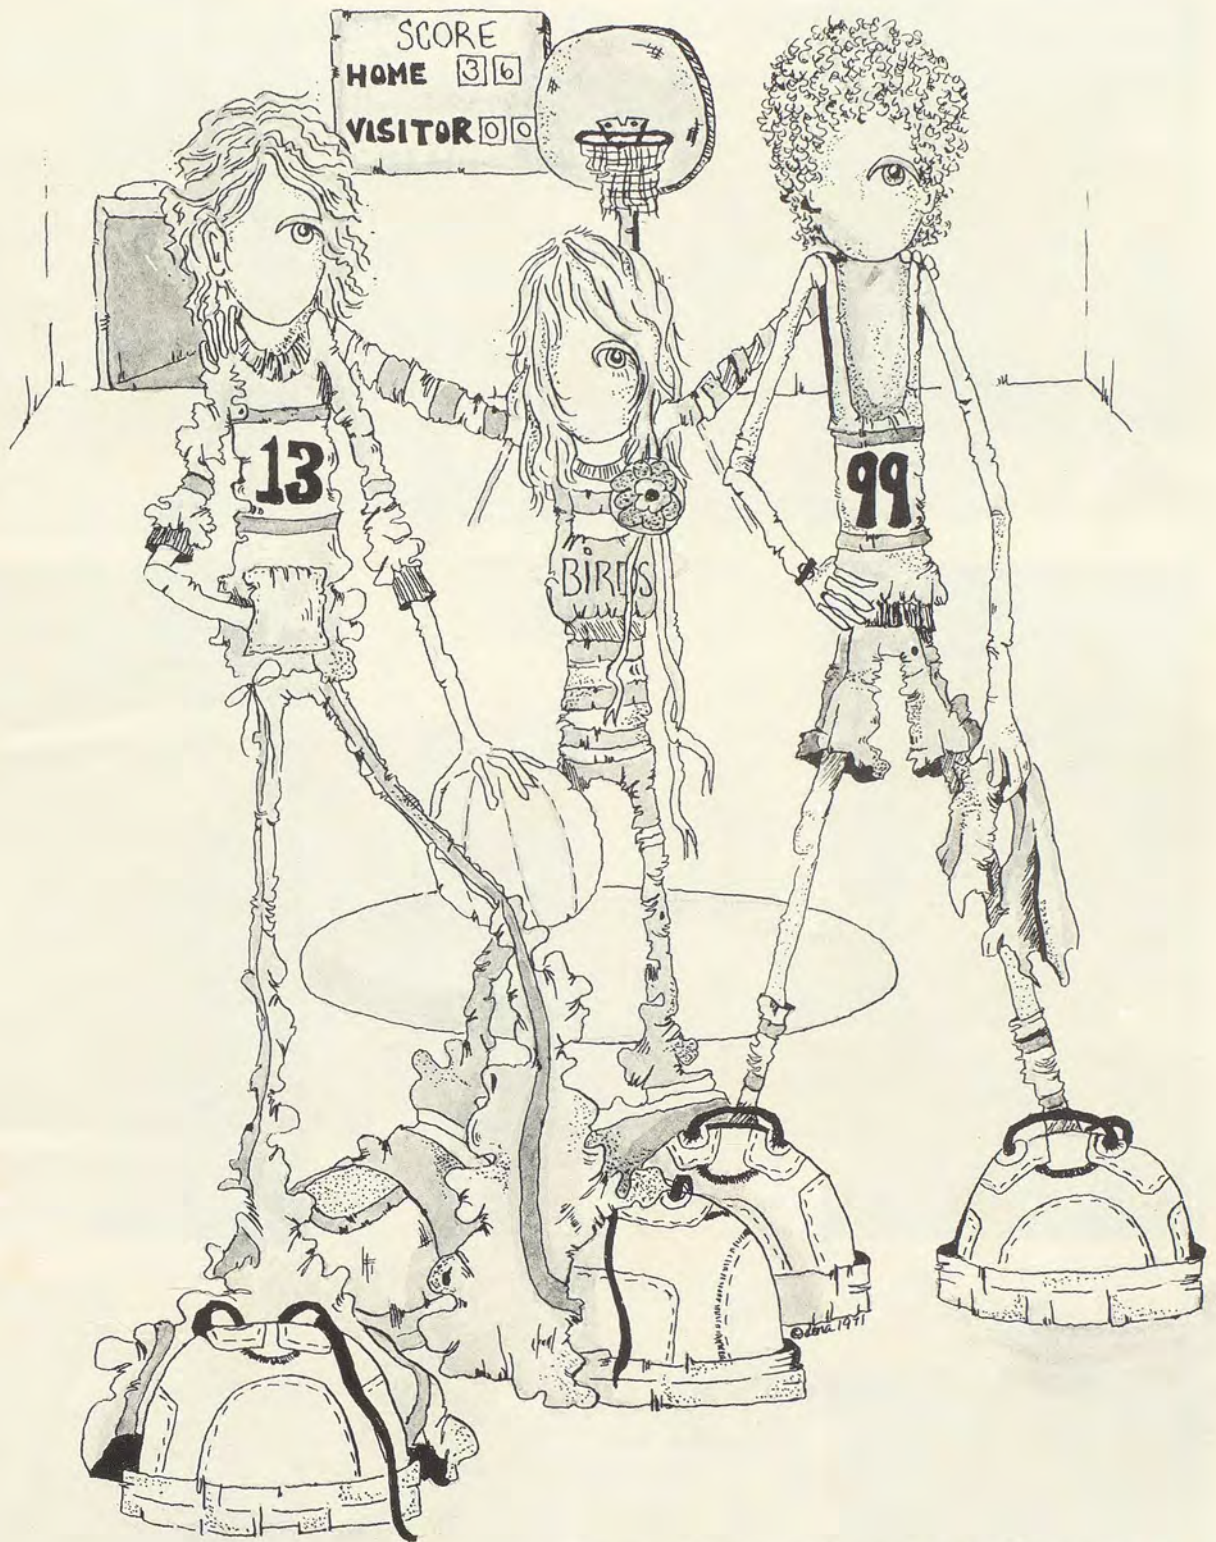

Mrs. Karpa, a teacher aide, is a jack of all trades.

Mr. Newton hands Debbie the keys to the new driver education car.

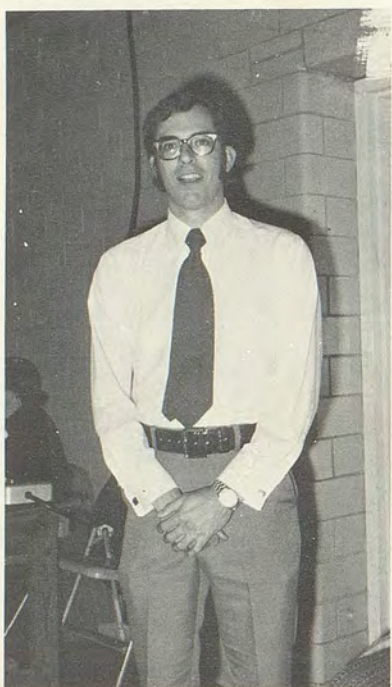

Mr. Jackson, the custodian, takes a smoke break.

Acknowledgement

As editor of the 1973 ARROW, I would like to give my special thanks to all those persons who made this yearbook a success:

To TAYLOR PUBLISHING COMPANY for printing our yearbook and their representative, Mr. Dan DeFalco, whose patience and understanding were an asset to our yearbook.

To the FACULTY, ADMINISTRATION, and STUDENT BODY for their cooperation and friendship.

To MARTHA BULL, KIM BARBAN, and WARD'S STUDIO for their excellent photography work.

To the ADVERTISERS for their interest and support (without them there would be no yearbook).

To the STAFF, especially to the advertising managers, for their cooperation, kindness, patience, and willingness to work, which made the ARROW possible.

And my special thanks go to MRS. JUANITA M. WORSLEY for her patience, assistance, guidance, kindness, and devotion throughout the whole year.

I, as editor, have enjoyed every minute of preparing a successful ARROW for 1973. I'm sure that the staff feels the same way.

So NOW, the 1972-73 ARROW STAFF says farewell!

Betty Etz, Editor

Our advertising managers give one last look at all their past hard work.

Mrs. Juanita Worsley, our yearbook adviser, sings "Hee-Haw!" as a farewell note.
